

Ignite Sessions: Library Success Stories

	Jean Canosa Albano Springfield (MA) City Library	Sparked by despair over the tragedy in Newtown, CT and coupled with senseless gun violence in the city, learn about the Springfield City Library's position as the cornerstone of a city-wide conversation about peace, non-violence, and how to move the community forward.
	Carol Luers Eyman Nashua (NH) Public Library	Use a Spring Book Retreat to engage adults with a full day of book discussions, a film screening, and a free lunch.
	Anne Ferguson Kellogg-Hubbard Library Montpelier, VT	Learn about the creation of the Vermont StoryWalk program that has taken off across the country. Using laminated panels, books can be spread all over town for people to read while walking outdoors.
	Margaret Manion University of Massachusetts, Lowell	Using a Jeopardy game at the end of information literacy classes works to engage students with the content.
	Heather Backman Formerly Howe Library, Hanover, NH as of 10/21 Hopkinton (MA) Public Library	Howe Library launched the "Communications Task Force" (CTF), a word-of-mouth marketing initiative that supports volunteers and staff in talking about library programs and services.
	Emily Underwood Institute Library of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints	Facing disarray after a fire took out their church library, two librarians started working from the ground up to rebuild a circulating collection.

 	Emily Tordo & Elizabeth Tully Oliver Wendell Holmes Library Phillips Academy (MA)	By participating in the Massachusetts eBooks pilot program, the ultimate goal in partnering with BiblioBoard was to explore a platform that could create and support interdisciplinary collections featuring materials from the Phillips Academy libraries, archives and museums.
	Meghan Malone Turner Free Library (MA)	The Turner Free Library rolled out iPads for patrons to use in the library. Discover how they integrated this technology into their operations.
	Maura Deedy Weymouth (MA) Public Libraries	Learn how the Weymouth libraries developed an author series, book clubs, movie programming, and other ways to engage adults without breaking the bank.
	Peggy O'Kane Maine State Library	Social media really works! Use tax check-off, curbside appeal spreading the word on Twitter to get results.
	Carolann MacMaster Auburn (MA) Public Library	Working with a limited budget? The Auburn (MA) public library used $100,000 to recreate a library without missing a day of service.
	Sarah Cornell Portsmouth (NH) Public Library	The Portsmouth Public Library hosted its first How-To Festival in August, and it was truly an intergenerational learning extravaganza! Learn how they provided a place for community members to connect and share their knowledge and passion with each other.

Come meet our fantastic presenters and ask your follow-up questions at 4:30 on the Deck.